OPENING— Making Things Happen: Young Artists in Dialogue III Boris Chouvellon & Mengzhi Zheng

Friday 20 April, 19:00-21:00

Dear ,

Please join us for the opening of Making Things Happen: Young Artists in Dialogue III dedicated to sculpture.

Program
19:00	Doors open
19:30	Meet the artists Boris Chouvellon & Mengzhi Zheng
20:30	Spring cocktail reception

In this part of the cycle Making Things Happen, the artworks surprise as they stand forth in their literalness and as they deftly disrupt our sense of the privileged historical backdrop at TMH. In attesting to sculpture's generative vocabulary, Boris Chouvellon (1980, FR) and Mengzhi Zheng (1983, FR born CN) flesh out the theme of the TMH yearlong program: how do young artists inscribe themselves in the history of an art medium?

Admission free. Limited space.

How does a young artist insert him or herself into the history of an art medium? In Making Things Happen, we broach this issue with three exhibitions of six young French artists, each forming a visual dialogue—both playful and serious—between individual works. The project is conceived by Marsha Plotnitsky in collaboration with art writer and curator Hubert Besacier.
